

Robb McKim, AICP
Vice President (Ret.)
PGAV Architects Planners and Destinations

Robb McKim, AICP, is a recently retired Vice President of PGAV Architects, Planners and Destinations where he was a part of the senior leadership team. With international reach, PGAV creates next generation places for people: places to work, learn, discover, play and enhance their communities. Concentrating on PGAV Architects, he focused on strategic business development, urban planning and design project advisory and management activities, in a wide range of initiatives and projects. Prior to PGAV, he began his career in urban planning and economic development at Midwest Research Institute and the Kansas City Area Development Council.

Robb has been actively involved in the Urban Land Institute (ULI), nationally and at the district council level, for over 25 years. He is a past chair of the Public Private Partnership Council (Gold Flight) and ULI Kansas City, where he remains a member of the Governance Committee and Advisory Board. He is on the Advisory Council of the Kansas City Design Center and the Sustainable Places Policy Committee of the Mid-America Regional Council. He is a member of the American Institute of Certified Planners.
